(a) The parties hereto agree that the exclusive means to resolve any dispute, controversy or claim, whether directly or indirectly related to these Terms and Conditions or any past or future business relationship between the parties hereto, shall be as follows:

(1) The parties hereto will attempt in good faith to resolve any controversy or claim by promptly conferring in negotiations between representatives of the parties hereto who have authority to settle the controversy. The parties hereto agree to exchange memoranda stating (i) the issues in dispute and their positions, and (ii) the name and title of the representative of the party hereto. If the matter is not resolved by conference of the representatives, either party hereto may initiate arbitration as set forth below.

(2) Any dispute, controversy or claim which cannot be resolved amicably by the parties hereto in accordance with the procedures described in paragraph (1) above shall be solely and finally settled by arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") under its commercial arbitration rules, or in the case of customers located outside the United States, administered by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution ("ICDR") under its International Arbitration Rules, and judgment on the award rendered by the arbitrators may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof. Except as may be required by law, neither party hereto nor an arbitrator may disclose the existence, content, or results of any arbitration hereunder without the prior written consent of both parties hereto. The arbitration shall take place before a panel of three arbitrators sitting in New York City, New York. The parties hereto each will select one arbitrator within 30 days of the receipt by respondent of a copy of the demand for arbitration. The two arbitrators so appointed shall nominate the third and presiding arbitrator (the "Chair") within 30 days of the appointment of the second arbitrator. If either party hereto fails to appoint an arbitrator, or if the two-party appointed arbitrators fail to appoint the Chair, within the time periods specified herein, such arbitrator shall, at the request of either party hereto, be appointed by the AAA. The decision of the arbitrators shall be in writing and shall be final and binding on the parties hereto. The arbitrators shall be empowered to award money damages, but shall not be empowered to award punitive damages, exemplary damages, consequential damages, incidental damages or specific performance.

(b) Either party hereto shall be entitled to recover any reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred in enforcing this Section 8. Otherwise, each party hereto shall bear all of its own costs relating to the arbitration proceeding irrespective of its outcome.

("FAA"), to the exclusion of any different or inconsistent state or local law, ordinance or judicial rule. This section 8 is self-executing. Any disputes concerning the interpretation or enforceability of this section 8, including without limitation, its revocability or voidability for any cause, the scope of the arbitrable issues, and any defense based upon waiver, estoppel or laches, shall be decided by the arbitrator.

(d) This section 8 provides the sole recourse for the resolution of any dispute, controversy or claim now in existence or that may arise in the future. Pursuant to this section 8, both parties hereto expressly waive their right to a jury trial, class action or consolidation, and neither party hereto shall be entitled to join or consolidate disputes by or against others in any arbitration, or to include in any arbitration any dispute as a representative or member of a class, or to act in any arbitration in the interest of the general public or in a private attorney general capacity.

(e) By agreeing to arbitration, the parties do not intend to deprive any court of its jurisdiction to issue a pre-arbitral injunction, pre-arbitral attachment, or other order in aid of arbitration proceedings. In any such action: (1) each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the Courts of the State of New York and the Federal Courts of the United States of America located within the Southern District of the State of New York (the "New York Courts"); (2) each party irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent it may effectively do so, any objection, including any objection to the laying of venue or based on the grounds of forum non conveniens or any right of objection to jurisdiction on account of its place of incorporation or domicile, which it may now or hereafter have to the bringing of any such action or proceedings in any New York

Courts; and (3) each of the parties irrevocably consents to service of process by first class certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid. Without prejudice to such provisional remedies as may be available under the jurisdiction of a court, the arbitral tribunal shall have full authority to grant provisional remedies and to direct the parties to request that any court modify or vacate any temporary or preliminary relief issued by such court, and to award damages for the failure of any party to respect the arbitral tribunal's orders to that effect.

Upon the occurrence of any such contingency, Arclin may, at its option, suspend or reduce deliveries under these Terms and Conditions during the period of such contingency, with the total quantity deliverable under these Terms and Conditions being reduced by the quantities so omitted.

10. QUALITY AND STANDARDS

(a) Arclin shall furnish products under these Terms and Conditions in conformance with the agreed upon specifications. If Customer does not provide written specifications regarding the quality of a product, the product furnished by Arclin will conform in material respects to applicable industry standards.

(b) In furnishing the product hereunder, Arclin shall comply in all material respects with all U.S. and Canadian standards (including but not limited to federal, state, provincial, local or international standards with U.S. or Canadian application) applicable to Arclin at the time of delivery.

11. SAFETY INFORMATION

(a) Arclin shall provide Safety Data Sheets for each of the products sold hereunder and shall label each of the products as required by applicable government regulations or standards. Customer acknowledges receipt of any applicable Safety Data Sheets and acknowledges that there are hazards associated with the products to be delivered pursuant hereto.

(b) Arclin shall provide available health and safety related information, such as toxicological data, that Customer may reasonably request to enable the Customer to comply with all applicable federal, provincial, and municipal statutes, regulations, rules and ordinances relating to Customer's use of the products.

(c) Customer assumes the responsibility of warning and training its employees, representatives, independent contractors and any other person in any way connected with, using or handling the products to be delivered pursuant hereto of all hazards of which Customer is, reasonably should be or may become, aware, including those which are or may in the future be disclosed in the Material Safety Data Sheets.

12. PAYMENT/CUSTOMER'S CREDIT

(a) Payment terms are Net Thirty (30) days from the date of the invoice from Arclin. If Customer fails to make any payment due hereunder within ten (10) days of due date of such payment, a written notice of default will be provided to Customer. If Customer fails to remedy the situation within five (5) days, then Arclin shall have the exclusive right to withhold or cancel any order or shipment.

(b) If the financial position of Customer becomes impaired or unsatisfactory to Arclin, or Customer is in default to Arclin under these Terms and Conditions or any other agreement, (1) Customer shall, at Arclin's election and specification, give advance cash payment or satisfactory security to Arclin; (2) Arclin may withhold any shipment of product until Arclin receives the specified payment or security; and (3) Customer shall not make any deductions (including but not limited to those for alleged damages) from payments then due Arclin under these Terms and Conditions.

13. TAXES

Unless specifically stated on the face of the Arclin price sheet and/or invoice to which these Terms and Conditions are attached, prices set out exclude customs duties, sales taxes or other charges levied directly upon the production, sale or transportation of the goods sold hereunder. Any prices that include such customs duties, sales tax and charges will be based on rates in effect on the date hereof and may from time to time be increased or decreased by any increase or decrease in such rates after such date.

14. CONFIDENTIALITY

All proprietary and confidential information exchanged between Arclin and Customer in connection with the activities contemplated herein, whether in oral, written or other form (including allowing the other party to observe its operations), including but not limited to pricing information, data, trade secrets or know how, processes, methods, concepts, ideas, programs, equipment, technology, apparatus, prototypes, business plans and sales information shall be treated as confidential information of the disclosing party, and the receiving party shall not, during the term of these Terms and Conditions, or for a period of five (5) years after termination of Terms and Conditions, use such information for any purpose other than in furtherance of Terms and Conditions, or disclose such information to any third party without the prior written approval of the disclosing party, unless such information: (i) has become public knowledge through no fault of the party receiving such information; (ii) comes to such party from a third party under no obligation of confidentiality with respect to such information; (iii) was in the possession of the receiving party prior to the date of disclosure; (iv) was independently developed by the receiving party, without reference to any information or materials disclosed by the disclosing party, as evidenced by the receiving party's written records; or (v) is required to be disclosed by law, regulation or legal process, provided that the party so required to disclose information shall give the other party sufficient notice of the proposed disclosure to seek a protective order for such information. The parties agree that a violation by either party of the provisions of this section 14 would cause irreparable injury to the other party, and there is no adequate remedy at law for such violation. Accordingly, the parties hereto agree that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, each party shall have the right in addition to any and all other remedies available at law or in equity, to equitable relief, including but not limited to the right to specific performance and to enjoin the other party in a court of equity from violating such provisions (without the necessity of the posting of any bond or similar requirement), and the parties hereto hereby waive any and all defenses they may have on the ground of damages as an adequate remedy at law. The existence of this right shall not preclude any other rights and remedies at law or in equity which the parties may have.

15. DOMESTIC SALE OF GOODS LAWS

16. CHOICE OF LAW

THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS SHALL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, WITHOUT REGARD TO CONFLICT-OF-LAWS PRINCIPLES.

17. WAIVER

If either party hereto waives any default by the other under these Terms and Conditions or waives the performance of any provision hereof, such waiver will not constitute a waiver of any other default or of the performance of any other provision of these Terms and Conditions by the other, nor a continuing waiver of the same default or of the subsequent performance of the same provision of these Terms and Conditions, unless the waiver states specifically that it will continue to the completion of these Terms and Conditions.

18. RIGHTS CUMULATIVE

All rights and remedies of Arclin and Customer under these Terms and Conditions are in addition to other rights and remedies and are cumulative, not alternative.

19. TRANSFER AND ASSIGNMENT

Customer may not transfer or assign these Terms and Conditions without Arclin's written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld).

All headings in these Terms and Conditions are for convenience of reference only and shall not be deemed part of the content of these Terms and Conditions or affect the meaning or interpretation of these Terms and Conditions.

21. TOTAL UNDERSTANDING

These Terms and Conditions and any price sheets and/or invoices constitute the entire understanding between the Customer and Arclin with respect to the subject matter hereof. Except as set forth in Section 22, these Terms and Conditions will be considered the final agreement between Customer and Arclin, and no other document will supersede, modify or supplement these Terms and Conditions, including but not limited to, a Customer purchase order or other document issued by Customer regarding a purchase from Arclin, unless Customer and Arclin specifically agree in writing that such document supersedes, modifies and/or supplements the terms of these Terms and Conditions.

22. AMENDMENT

These Terms and Conditions may be modified, superseded or otherwise altered by Arclin at any time, notwithstanding any terms or conditions that may be contained in any purchase order, supply agreement, acknowledgment or other document or instrument received, and such amended terms shall apply to all future orders of products once the amended Terms and Conditions are provided to Customer.
